MON	TUE	WED	THU	FRI	SAT	SUN	WEEKLY ORBIT
	1 · No exact slow-planet aspects. Quiet opening to September.	2 ★ Mercury trine natal Uranus, conjunct natal Jupiter, and Venus sextile her own natal degree — three flow aspects at once. Sharp, expansive, surprising thinking meets a genuine boost to how you see possibility. One of September's best days for a new idea, a bold conversation, or simply trusting a hunch.	3 ▲ Mercury trine natal Neptune — inspired, imaginative thinking. Good for anything creative or intuitive. ▼ Mars opposition natal Uranus — but drive meets sudden disruption at the same time. Plans may shift abruptly. Stay flexible rather than forcing the original plan.	4 ▲ Mars sextile natal Jupiter — drive and expansion cooperating. Good day to act on ambition.	5 ▲ Mercury sextile natal Pluto — thinking with real depth. Good for research or a conversation that goes below the surface.	6 ▼ Mars opposition natal Neptune — effort meets fog. What you push toward doesn't quite land or clarify today. Rest rather than force it.	WEEK 1 ORBIT — Sep 1–7 September opens quiet, then Sep 2 delivers a genuine cluster — Mercury trine Uranus and conjunct Jupiter, Venus sextile her own degree — three flow aspects landing together, one of the month's best days for a new idea. Sep 3 complicates it: inspired Mercury-Neptune thinking sits next to Mars opposition Uranus, drive meeting sudden disruption. The rest of the week stays supportive — Mars-Jupiter on the 4th, Mercury-Pluto depth on the 5th — before Mars opposition Neptune on the 6th asks for rest rather than force. Sun trine Uranus closes the week on the 7th with a genuinely liberated, more-yourself-than-usual quality.
7 ▲ Sun trine natal Uranus — identity meets liberation. A day that feels more like yourself than usual, in an unexpected way. Let a surprising impulse guide you.	8 ◆◆ Pluto stations near your MC/IC axis — opposite your IC, conjunct your MC — one of the rarer, deeper transits of the year, a slow structural pressure on the public/private divide in your life that will keep returning as Pluto moves back and forth across this point in the coming months. Alongside it: Sun conjunct natal Jupiter and Mercury easing your Ascendant/Descendant bring real warmth and confidence. Hold both — something is quietly, permanently shifting in how visible and how grounded you are, even while the day itself feels expansive.	9 ▼ Jupiter opposition natal Saturn — growth and restriction pulling against each other. Ambition wants more than structure currently allows. Don't abandon the vision — just don't expect it to move fast today. ▲ Sun trine natal Neptune — softer, more forgiving undercurrent. Some part of today still flows easily, even if the headline aspect is friction.	10 · No exact slow-planet aspects. Quiet day.	11 ▲ Mars trine natal Pluto — drive and transformation working powerfully together. A determined, capable day. Good for anything that requires real staying power.	12 ★ A rare cluster: Neptune trine your IC and sextile your MC (a slow, once-in-years dreaminess touching your foundation/career axis), Mercury simultaneously trine MC and sextile IC, and Sun sextile natal Pluto. Vision, thinking, and depth all supporting your foundation at once. One of September's most quietly significant days — something imagined starts to feel structurally possible.	13 ▲ Mercury trine natal Mars — sharp, direct, action-oriented thinking. Say what you mean, then move.	WEEK 2 ORBIT — Sep 8–14 Sep 8 is structurally the most significant day of the month — Pluto stations near your MC/IC axis, a slow, rare pressure on the public/private divide that will keep returning in the months ahead, arriving alongside real Sun-Jupiter warmth and Mercury ease on your angles. Sep 9 adds Jupiter opposition Saturn — ambition wanting more than structure allows. The week's centre of gravity is Sep 12, when Neptune, Mercury, and the Sun all support your foundation/career axis at once — something imagined starts to feel structurally real. Mercury trine Mars on the 13th closes the week with sharp, capable follow-through.
14 · No exact slow-planet aspects. Quiet day.	15 ▲ Mercury conjunct natal Moon — mind and feeling speaking the same language. Good for an honest conversation. ▼ Venus square your IC and MC — but what you want privately and what you're presenting publicly pull against each other today. A values/visibility tension. Don't resolve it in one day.	16 · No exact slow-planet aspects. Quiet day.	17 ▲ Mercury sextile its own natal degree and sextile natal Sun — clear, self-aware thinking that reflects your identity accurately. Good day for any communication that needs to represent you well.	18 ▲ Sun trine your Ascendant, sextile your Descendant — identity and connection in real harmony. Good day to be seen and to connect.	19 · No exact slow-planet aspects. Quiet day.	20 ▼ Mercury square natal Uranus — thinking meets sudden disruption, a jarring idea or interruption. ▲ Mercury trine natal Saturn — but grounded, structured thinking is also available right alongside it. Use the structure to metabolize the disruption. ▲ Mars sextile your Ascendant, trine your Descendant — drive and presence supporting connection. Good day to show up physically for something or someone that matters	WEEK 3 ORBIT — Sep 15–21 Mercury-Moon warmth opens the week on the 15th, immediately followed by Venus square your IC/MC — private wants and public presentation pulling apart. Sep 17 restores clear, self-aware thinking, and Sep 19 brings real relational harmony as the Sun trines your Ascendant. The week's back half turns mixed again: Mercury square Uranus and trine Saturn arrive the same day (Sep 20), disruption and structure both present at once, before Mercury squares Neptune on the 21st and fogs communication once more. A week of genuine back-and-forth between clarity and confusion.
21 ▼ Mercury square natal Neptune — communication meets fog. Something said or heard doesn't land clearly. Don't trust a miscommunication as final.	22 · No exact slow-planet aspects. Quiet day.	23 · No exact slow-planet aspects. Quiet day.	24 · No exact slow-planet aspects. Quiet day.	25 · No exact slow-planet aspects. Quiet day.	26 ★ Sun trine your MC, sextile your IC, and Mercury sextile natal Venus — identity, foundation, and values all in harmony at once. A grounded, good-feeling day where public direction and private foundation genuinely agree with each other.	27 ▲ Sun trine natal Mars — identity and drive working together. A capable, motivated close to the month's active stretch.	WEEK 4 ORBIT — Sep 22–28 Mars supports your presence and connection on the 22nd, then three quiet days give you room before Sep 26 — Sun and Mercury both harmonizing with your foundation/career axis and your values at once, one of the month's best-feeling days. The week closes with Sun trine Mars on the 27th, real capability and motivation. After the intensity of weeks 1–3, this stretch is comparatively gentle and constructive.
28 · No exact slow-planet aspects. Quiet close to the month.	29 · No exact slow-planet aspects. Quiet close to the month.	30 · No exact slow-planet aspects. September closes quietly, with Pluto's slow pressure on your MC/IC axis still settling in the background.					WEEK 5 ORBIT — Sep 29–30 September closes in silence — no exact aspects in its final two days. A genuine, unforced rest after a structurally dense month, with Pluto's slow pressure on your MC/IC axis still settling in the background even once the visible activity quiets down.

	[REST] A quiet opening to September. Nothing exact lands — simple, blank space before the month's first real idea day.	[USE IT] Mercury trine Uranus, conjunct Jupiter, and Venus sextile her own degree — three flow aspects landing together. One of the best days all year for a new idea, a bold conversation, or trusting a hunch. Say it, pitch it, act on the impulse.	[NAVIGATE] Inspired, imaginative thinking sits right alongside Mars opposing Uranus — drive meeting sudden disruption. A plan may shift abruptly. Stay flexible rather than forcing yesterday's direction.	[BUILD] Drive and expansion cooperate, then thinking runs genuinely deep. A steady, supportive stretch — good for research, or acting on real ambition without needing to force it.		[PROTECT] Effort meets fog today. What you push toward doesn't quite land or clarify. Rest rather than force it — this isn't the day for pushing through.

[ACT] Identity meets real liberation — a day that feels more like yourself than usual, in an unexpected way. Let a surprising impulse actually guide you today.	[NAVIGATE] The most structurally significant day of the month. Pluto stations near your career/foundation axis — opposite your IC, conjunct your MC — a rare, slow transit that will keep resurfacing as Pluto moves back over this point in the months ahead. Alongside it, real warmth: the Sun conjoins natal Jupiter, Mercury eases your Ascendant/Descendant. Hold both — something is quietly, structurally shifting in how visible and how grounded you are, even while today itself feels expansive.	[NAVIGATE] Growth and restriction pull against each other — ambition wanting more room than current structure allows. Don't abandon the plan; just don't expect it to move fast today. A softer undercurrent keeps part of the day flowing easily regardless.	[BUILD] A quiet day, then real determined strength — drive and transformation working powerfully together. Good for anything that requires genuine staying power. One of the quietly best days of the whole year. Something imagined starts to feel structurally possible.	[ACT] Sharp, direct, action-oriented thinking. Say exactly what you mean, then move on it.

[REST] A quiet day. Nothing exact lands.	[NAVIGATE] Mind and feeling speak the same language — good for an honest conversation — while Venus squares your home/career axis at the same time. What you want privately and what you're presenting publicly pull apart today. Don't try to resolve that tension in one sitting.	[REST] A quiet day. Nothing exact lands.	[ACT] Clear, self-aware thinking that genuinely reflects who you are. Good day for any communication that needs to represent you accurately.	[REST] A quiet day. Nothing exact lands.	[CELEBRATE] Real harmony between identity and connection. A good day to be seen and to actually connect, not just perform connection.	[NAVIGATE] Sudden disruption and grounded structure both show up the same day — a jarring idea sits right alongside real, usable stability. Let the structure help you metabolize the disruption rather than fighting either one.
